

Hans De Marie Heungoup

Senior Analyst, Central Africa

Nairobi, Kenya

Biography

Hans De Marie Heungoup is Central Africa Senior Analyst at the International Crisis Group. He is responsible for conducting field research and providing analysis on the prevailing security, governance and political issues in Cameroon and the sub-region. He is also responsible for proposing policy initiatives for governmental, intergovernmental, and non-governmental stakeholders to address and resolve sources of conflict.

Before joining Crisis Group, Hans was a Researcher at the Paul Ango Ela Foundation of geopolitics in Central Africa and a consultant at the Friedrich Ebert Foundation. He has a BA in Law and Political Science, an MA in Governance and Public Policy from the Catholic University of Central Africa and a Certificate in International Affairs from Sciences Po Paris. He has extensively published academic articles and commentaries on Cameroon, Central Africa, Boko Haram and the Lake Chad basin.

Areas of Expertise

- Defence and security
- Political sociology
- Cameroon
- Boko Haram and the Lake Chad Basin

Languages

- French (native)
- English (fluent)
- German (intermediate)
- Swahili (Beginner)

<https://www.crisisgroup.org/who-we-are/people/hans-de-marie-heungoup>